Job description

FBC Laramie is a good church in a great location. It needs a pastor that wants to take on the challenge of offering pastoral care to a church, while at the same time leading them in meaningful outreach. The church parsonage and facilities are located adjacent to the University of Wyoming campus. It has about 30k residents plus student enrollment. The previous pastor died serving the church, and the church is grieving this as well some conflict that followed. Current attendance is 25-40.

First Baptist Church of Laramie has a long history, over 150 years, rich in its contribution to the town and state as well as rich in its outreach of evangelism and ecumenical cooperation. We are a Biblically based people and maintain a wide range of social, political, and theological positions. These differences enrich our fellowships and strengthen our sense of mission. Believing that our call to be a church is a call to witness in the world, we pledge our support to the work of our missionaries throughout the world and we commit ourselves to the mission to which God calls us all. These missions include providing for the hungry and the homeless locally as well as financially supporting American Baptist missionaries around the world.

We seek to serve Christ in the fellowship of our congregation as well as to love one another, to remember one another in prayer, to share in each other's joys, and to sustain each other in times of distress. We aspire to be a fellowship of the concerned, where the lost may find Jesus Christ, sinners may find a pardon, seekers may find meaning for their lives, and where all who come may find welcome. We seek to be obedient to Christ in our daily living and strive to be responsible church members, through faithful attendance, study, and giving. We strive for attitudes and actions which will reflect God's spirit working through us.

Laramie is a high plains Wyoming town nestled between the Laramie Range to the east and the Snowy Range to the west at an altitude of 7,163 feet. It is the home of the University of Wyoming and proud of its western heritage. The Wyoming Technical Institute and an extension of the Laramie County Community College also offer post high school education opportunities. The town is culturally diverse and offers libraries, museums, art galleries, concerts, entertainment, places of worship, taverns, rodeos, sports, theaters and much more to give a sense of a larger town while still maintaining a feeling of a friendly family oriented hometown.

For a healthy lifestyle Laramie has a recreation center as well as private fitness centers. Medical facilities include dental, optical, orthopedic, chiropractic, family medical practices, a community hospital and cancer center as well as many different doctors who offer care in specialized medical fields. We are surrounded by many different recreation opportunities from the plains to the mountains, both summer and winter. While the winters can be zesty, the summers in the dry mountain air is the place to be even if it is warm. Many feel that Laramie is the place to raise a family, enjoy the culture of a university town as well as the rugged outdoors of the West while escaping the rush of humanity that comes with bigger cities. We think Laramie is a place you would love to live.
